Hungarian Relief Quota Doubled Here

While the United States as a whole still is short of its quota for the Red Cross Hungarian Relief Fund, Sierra Madre has contributed nearly twice its quota and contributions still are coming in, Mrs. Florence Peterson announced Monday at the board meeting of the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross.

The local chapter has a good record of helpful contributions for veterans' hospitals, the old people's home at Los Amigos and similar activities, but now it has received another appeal which can be fulfilled without the use of money.

Some of the veterans' hospitals are much in need of playing cards still in good condition, checkers, writing paper, tooth paste, shaving cream and pocket-sized books.

Los Amigos would also like writing paper, toilet articles and religious books and magazines. All such contributions taken to the local office of the Red Cross between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 and 3 p.m. will be delivered where most needed.

E. R. Mitchell and Col. Charles R. Gildart were installed as new members of the board at Monday's meeting. Mrs. Peterson read a report of the great needs of the refugee Hungarians and how the Red Cross is meeting them. One group of refugees was met with hot coffee and the first doughnuts the refugees had ever seen. They enjoyed them, holes and all.

School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt, chairman of the Red Cross chapter here, announced that Col. Gildart will be fund campaign chairman this year.

The Red Cross will hold its annual dinner meeting Jan. 21 at the Woman's Clubhouse at 6:30 p.m. The session is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained at the door or at Red Cross headquarters, 25 S. Baldwin.

O. L. Thoreson of the Los Angeles Chapter will speak on the International Red Cross.

Fires Burn 3,340 Acres

Angeles National Forest Supervisor William V. Mendenhall announced that 62 wild fires burned a total of 3,340 acres of valuable watershed and timber lands, within the Angeles Forest area during 1956.

The largest fire, 1,510 acres, which burned on Sept. 4, was caused by two jet planes that collided at 22,000 feet elevation and crashed in flames near the foot of Mt. Pacifico.

Exploding rockets, fired from military planes, in pursuit of a runaway radio-controlled "drone" aircraft, caused the burning of 477 acres of forest land on Aug. 16. A careless smoker started the disastrous Dunsmere Canyon fire near LaCrescenta which devastated 755 acres of very high value watershed area within the National Forest boundary. Bouquet Canyon was the scene of the only other large fire when a house burned on June 25 and the fire spread to an area of 445 acres before it was controlled.

Forest Rangers blamed only one fire on "natural causes." That was a lone lightning strike on Mt. Islip, near Crystal Lake, and was controlled before burning half an acre.

Major causes of the 62 fires were: smokers, 31 per cent; incendiary, 15 per cent; burning buildings, 10 per cent; children playing with matches, 8 per cent; campfires, 8 per cent; burning vehicles, 8 per cent; miscellaneous (debris burning, hot ashes, falling aircraft, rock-

Mrs. Tumilty Elected Head of GOP Club

Mrs. Bernard Tumilty, 58 W. Carter, has been elected new president of the Sierra Madre Republicans, the first woman to head the organization since Mrs. Lucille Eaton's tenure several years ago.

Other officers are Robert de Weese, vice president; Mrs. Ruth E. Thurber, re-elected secretary for the fourth year; Charles H. Tye, treasurer, and Col. Charles Gildart, campaign chairman.

Col. Charles Morrison, the retiring president, told the club at its annual meeting last week that 98 per cent of the registered Republicans voted in Sierra Madre during the past election.

Col. Morrison praised the work of Richard Thayer, the finance chairman, who raised more than $1,300 for the county campaign in addition to a reserve fund of several hundred dollars.

He also commended Mrs. Charles H. James, the precinct chairman; James Wolfe, treasurer, and Harold Roberts, public relations chairman. The Sierra Madre News also was praised "for its fairness in reporting the political news of the campaign."

Mrs. Tumilty has been active in civic and political affairs since coming to Sierra Madre six years ago. She is a member of the Board of the Friends of the Library and of the Sierra Madre Girl Scouts.

Mr. Tye, the new treasurer, was county superintendent of schools in Sioux City, Ia., for 35 years and was always active in Republican organization work there.

City Project to Boost Pump Plant Output

The Sierra Madre Department of Public Works has started on a series of projects that include increasing the capacity of the water system, trimming trees and laying a new sidewalk.

A new booster system is being installed at the Mira Monte Pumping Plant at a cost of about $20,000, according to William Noel, a department employee who is in charge of the project.

PTA Plans Talk on Food, Medic Class

Preparation of sandwich spreads and fillings will be demonstrated by Mrs. Frances Blumer, president of the Pasadena chapter of the American Nutrition Association, in the Sierra Madre School Cafeteria, Jan. 24 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Blumer also is a member of the National Board of American Nutritionists. Her appearance is sponsored by the Sierra Madre PTA, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry Rose.

In addition to a discussion on sandwiches, Mrs. Blumer also will talk on hot and cold packed luncheons. The meeting is open to the public, and baby sitters will be provided.

The Sierra Madre PTA also is sponsoring a Red Cross class. The series of 10 lessons are given every Monday and Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 12 at the Sierra Madre School.

The class is open to the public and a Red Cross first aid certificate will be presented to everyone who successfully completes the course.

Wendell Booth Gets Toastmaster Award 2nd Time

Wendell Booth was a voted Best Speaker last Jan. 9 at the Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club meeting at the Rancho Hillcrest Restaurant.

Mr. Booth's speech was entitled "Kivallo Embler." It dealt with the freedom fighters of Hungary, giving historical background and the temperamental make-up of this unique people. This was Mr. Booth's third Toastmasters talk and the second time he has won the Best Speakers trophy.

Earl Nichols spoke on forest fire control. Two new club members, Ross Morgan and Robert Chisler, presented their first speeches, known as the "ice breaker."

Table topics discussion—the extemporaneous two-minute talks—was conducted by Cliff Sweet. Robert Milo was selected for the best presentation of table topics.

Camp Fire Girls' Peanut Sale Starts Tomorrow

Camp Fire Girls and their little sisters, the Blue Birds, will turn peanut vendors at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when their annual benefit peanut sale begins.

The girls will again carry vacuum packed salted Virginia peanuts, with special Camp Fire labels, and will cover Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch.

The theme of the drive is "It Only Takes Peanuts," but every can sold will provide funds for the individual groups to which the girls belong, and for needs and improvements at Camp Chiquita in Altadena and Camp Wasegawagen, high in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The sale lasts through Feb. 4. A special theater party is being arranged for the young vendors as a reward.

Plan Commission Switches Meeting

The Sierra Madre Planning Commission has changed its meeting date from the second to the third Thursday of the month, starting in February. The commission meets at 8 p.m.

Kin of Dons Dies Here At Age 90

Mrs. Lola Armijo Borradaile, a member of one of the early Spanish families of New Mexico, died in her home at 391 E. Grand View Jan. 10. She was 90 years old.

Born Oct. 25, 1866, in the shadows of the ancient church of San Felipe de Neri, in the Casa de Armijo, Albuquerque, Mrs. Borradaile was educated at the Visitation Convent in St. Louis, traveling to and from the school in stage coaches on the old Santa Fe Trail.

She was the daughter of Ambrosio Armijo and Candelaria Griego. Her father was one of the most prominent ranchers, realty holders and mercantile men of his generation in New Mexico.

At the age of 20, Mrs. Borradaile married Col. John Borradaile, who was a U.S. infantry officer during the Spanish-American War.

The Borradailes moved to Berkeley, Calif., in 1914, at the time their two daughters were attending college there. The family settled in Sierra Madre in 1922, five years before the death of Col. Borradaile.

Mrs. Borradaile's home here was decorated with the fruits of her travels throughout the world, ancient family heirlooms and the products of her own talent—fine watercolors, handpainted china and needlepoint portraits.

An accomplished pianist, Borradaile wrote little Spanish plays for her grandchildren to perform for charitable groups, and taught them literally hundreds of Spanish folksongs.

The last 10 years of her life were darkened by blindness, but her spirit was always high, her mind alert and perceptive. Her failing eyesight prompted her to read through records for the blind, and she consumed an amazing number of books annually up until her death.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Anita Otero, Pasadena; and three daughters, Mrs. Grace B. Buchanan, Alhambra, Mrs. Rebecca Colligan, Sierra Madre, and Mrs. Pauline Stumm, Glendora.

The Rosary was recited at 8 o'clock Friday evening in St. Rita's Church. Interment was in San Gabriel Mission Cemetery, with Ripple Mortuary Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Friends Sponsor Film Classic

Another film classic sponsored by the Friends of the Library will be shown in the Library here Jan. 19 and 21.

The first showing, for children, will be at 9:30 a.m. Saturday; the second at 7 p.m. Monday. The film, "The Great Adventure," portrays the life of a Swedish farm family through the seasons.

Dr. Herbert Herscher, 1930 from the College of Medical Evangelists, and first practiced medicine in Los Angeles.

He came to Arcadia in 1946 after serving for three years in the Navy Medical Corps.

Thief Also Enters, Robs Dental Office

Sierra Madre Police this week are investigating three burglaries, two in churches and one at the office of Dr. Allan J. Burgess. Police believe all three were committed by the same person.

Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan, who along with Officer L. E. Wilburne investigated the burglaries, said the same type of burnt paper matches were found in each case. The offenses occurred either late Tuesday night, Jan. 8, or early the following morning.

At St. Rita's Church, the intruder stole a partially filled bottle of sacramental wine and attempted to pry open two offering boxes, but was unsuccessful.

About 20 cents was removed from an unlocked offering box. Entry was made through an unlocked window on the east side of the church.

The burglar's next stop was at the Church of Ascension, which is always left unlocked. A large light stand which holds 35 to 40 candles and also contains the offering box was stolen.

The wrought-iron stand, valued at $50, was recovered Jan. 10 in a vacant lot at Highland and Mountain Trail. The offering box had been pried open and an unknown amount of money taken.

Entry into the office of Dr. Burgess at 17 Suffolk was made through a side window that was pried open, apparently with a screw driver.

Stolen were a typewriter, an adding machine, two staplers, 11 pens and 100 3-cent stamps. Value of the articles was placed at approximately $270.

Chief McMillan said fingerprints were left at the scene of the burglaries, but were too smudged to reveal the identification of the culprit.

Police also are investigating the theft of moving equipment from the rear of a truck owned by Wayne E. Perry, 40 S. Hermosa, the owner of Sierra Madre Transfer. Mr. Perry reported the theft Jan. 12.

Chest Still $917 Short Of Goal

The Sierra Madre Community Chest is still approximately $917 short of its goal, E. R. (Mitch) Mitchell, treasurer, reported at the organization's monthly meeting Monday night. The goal this year is $9,000.

Donations may still be turned in by mailing them in care of the Post Office, Sierra Madre, or by turning money in personally to Mr. Mitchell at the Sierra Madre office of the First Western Bank and Trust Co.

A minor crisis developed within the Community Chest last month, it was reported, when the Visiting Nurses Association was called in to help a needy family.

Unfortunately, funds allocated to the association had been spent. The Chest, as a result, diverted money from its reserve fund to handle this case.

The Community Chest normally maintains a reserve fund of approximately $1,000 to handle overhead and just such emergencies as arose in December.

The Chest will hold its annual meeting Feb. 11. The committee in charge includes Samuel I. Kirk, Mrs. C. L. Young and Frank Barbour.

Further details about the annual meeting will be published in The Sierra Madre News at a later date.

Let's Finish the Job

The month-long March of Dimes opened in Sierra Madre last week and throughout the nation.

Happily, this 1956 campaign opens on a note of triumph. For 1956 was a year of great achievement in the long fight against infantile paralysis. Tens of millions of American children were inoculated with Salk vaccine. The number of polio cases was sharply cut. By next summer millions more—adults as well as children—will be protected.

With the total defeat of paralytic polio now on the horizon, everyone is deeply grateful. A source of terrible fear is gradually being removed from our lives.

Yet it would be a tragic irony if, because of this coming triumph, thousands of less fortunate Americans were deprived of hope.

These thousands—people of all ages—are the ones stricken with polio this past summer and during preceding years of heartbreaking epidemics. For many of them the road back is rugged, requiring not only effort on their part, but financial assistance from the rest of us.

That assistance is provided through the patient aid program of the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis with March of Dimes funds. During the past decade it has helped more than 15,000 Los Angeles victims of this terrible disease, and has spent more than $1,000,000 per year locally on patient care alone.

The March of Dimes is also dedicated to programs of polio research and the training of urgently needed specialists in the care of the disabled. Much of this work is done in Los Angeles County institutions, such as Orthopaedic Hospital, Rancho Los Amigos, the California Institute of Technology, the University of Southern California, and the University of California at Los Angeles.

All of these vital programs must continue if we are to assist polio patients in rebuilding their lives and assuming useful places in their communities.

Washington News

By EDGAR W. HESTAND, Rep. 21st District

Although the smoke of the first few days has just begun to lift, it's already clear that the 85th Congress will be highly political as well as liberal with your tax dollars.

This is evident from the rash of partisan bills dropped into the hopper as the session gets off the ground and from the tenor of proceedings on the House and Senate floors as well as behind the scenes.

Already we have seen the Democrats swarm into all the key seats in both houses, take over the leadership and assume majorities on all committees, by virtue of November's election results. They have indicated their intentions of making it tough for any of the President's partisan proposals to pass.

The President himself set off the first real excitement when he appeared before a joint session Saturday. His request for standby power to use troops in the Near East seems, in my opinion, the only workable solution to a situation laden with intrigue and dynamite.

I believe we can forestall a war in this trouble spot if we let them know we are ready to protect it from aggression. By not stating our policy we would be giving Russia the green light, as we did in Korea with such tragic results.

ON MY PART I have re-introduced six of the bills which failed to get action during the last session but which I feel are most important to the welfare of the country.

Three of the six pertain to the protection of the labor union worker. A fourth would return the country to the gold standard. Another would set up a congressional watchdog committee on foreign intelligence, and the sixth would prohibit the federal government from preempting the rights of states.

The worker bills include the much publicized measure of last year to bring unions under anti-monopoly laws. Our most recent questionnaire revealed overwhelming sympathy in our district for such a measure.

However, it was impossible to get a hearing because of the timidity of other members to act on controversial bills of this nature during an election year. Yet I feel it necessary to protect the rights of workers, housewives and taxpayers who feel the pinch when union czars grow all-powerful. Perhaps we shall have more success with it this year.

Another labor bill would outlaw the use of union workers' dues to support or oppose any candidate for political office. Campaign contributions from union general funds now flaunt the rights of union men who oppose personally the candidates getting these contributions. A companion measure is sure to be reintroduced in the Senate this year.

The final worker's measure, in the form of a House resolution, would set up a select committee to investigate labor racketeering. Already such an investigation has been promised, but I reintroduced the resolution to insure that one will come about. The measure developed after the blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel.

I HAVE REINTRODUCED the gold standard measure as a matter of principle because I believe that our country must return to the gold standard sooner or later to help prevent the further shrinking of the housewife's dollar. Chances are slim that the bill will get action this year because of the Washington atmosphere of big appropriations and large spending programs.

My bill to establish a joint committee to watch over the Central Intelligence Agency follows recommendations of the Hoover Bipartisan Commission. The Hoover task force had access to all classified material and operations and found that achievements of the super-secret CIA were not adequate. Aim of the bill would be to promote an aggressive leadership which would unify the intelligence effort and make it more productive.

Finally, the bill to prohibit the federal government from preempting the rights of states is one which I feel vital in view of recent actions by the U.S. Supreme Court. My bill follows the doctrine expressed in the Constitution which states that any right not expressly granted to the federal government is reserved to the states or to the people.

Nevertheless, on nine occasions in four years the Supreme Court has attempted to preempt the rights of states. Recent decisions involved sedition, disloyalty, segregation, the Fifth Amendment and others. The measure has strong backing from members of both parties.

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

Many persons live so quietly and modestly in Sierra Madre that we do not know how wonderful they were until they die. Charles Frederic Morse, who died last week, had done many important things in the music world in Michigan and elsewhere, and also in Los Angeles and Pasadena since coming west.

As music chairman for the Friends of the Library here he strove earnestly to secure equipment which would be helpful to all the young aspirants to musical careers, and some concerts which would be inspirational, but he never mentioned his past achievements. I, for one, thought I knew him pretty well, but I was astonished by the list of his notable achievements published in last week's News. One almost wishes he hadn't been so modest and retiring. Then maybe many of us would have appreciated him more.

I DIDN'T KNOW, for example, that Mr. Morse was one of the sponsors of the Neighborhood Music Settlement in Los Angeles. Years ago, when I had a daily column, I visited that activity a couple of times and can never forget it. Some of the kids learning to play various instruments there had great talent but no money. There they were getting instruction they never could have afforded otherwise, some for practically nothing and some for nothing at all, if I recall it, all were supposed to pay what they could—if they were eager enough they could find ways to earn a quarter or half dollar to pay for a $5 lesson. It seemed to be the best of Democracy, putting the means to rise within the reach of even the most underprivileged, if he or she had ambition. Most of us are too absorbed in our own affairs to give time and thought to efforts like that. You were a better man than most of us, Charlie Morse.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 15, 1937—Charles W. Hill, 77, an early publisher of the News, died of a heart attack Monday night at his home in Fullerton. He purchased The News from its founder, R. T. Cowles, and published it almost a year. In 1908 he sold the paper to George B. Morgridge and went to Spokane, Wash., where he started the C. W. Hill Printing Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jewell, 560 North Hermosa Ave., were dinner hosts to Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hersey and son, Gale, Saturday evening.

THE PRESIDENT warns us there is danger of inflation. That's a good deal like warning a man who has fallen overboard that he is in danger of getting wet. There was a lot of talk about "the sound dollar" last fall, but the dollar surely buys less right now than it ever did before. That talk always reminded me of the old Scotch story. The congregation of a wee kirk wished to call a minister and invited two or three to come and preach. After the first candidate appeared the elders met and decided: "He's not sound." After the next one appeared they met again and decided: "He's all sound." Certainly the sound dollar we've heard so much is not sound yet at all.

BILL MENDENHALL, supervisor of Angeles National Forest, will retire Jan. 31—and we're going to lose a public servant who has done far more than most of us realize for all of us. Bill has been in the Forest Service since 1911, and all that time has been doing things for the benefit of the public.

Often, though, the Forest Service has been so shamefully limited by appropriations that it has not had enough men adequately to prevent or stop forest fires—especially where the woods are tinder dry and vast numbers of careless persons use them as a playground—it is mainly due to the Forest Service that we still have forests, tremendously valuable watersheds, wild life sanctuaries, picnic grounds and trails for climbing. Life in this area would not be the same if it weren't for Angeles Forest.

In a land fast getting overcrowded it is wonderful to be able to walk into spacious primitive areas. And Angeles Forest could not be what it is but for the faithful, patient, sincere and long-suffering efforts of Bill Mendenhall.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

44 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 17, 1913—Miss Maloy and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger of Santa Monica and Miss Hodgekins of Los Angeles were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Steinberger.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 16, 1947—Dr. Milton W. Valois, D.D.S., has announced the opening of a new dental office, Saturday, January 18, at 522 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., former location of Dr. C. D. Shank.

Dorine Turnbull celebrated her ninth birthday Friday evening, Jan. 10 at Pierre's. Guests were Misses Susan Caron, Debbie Dedrick, Barbara Mullender, Nancy Rogers and Marilyn Flynn.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Jan. 17, 1952—Widespread storm damage was reported in Sierra Madre as 5.40 inches of rain fell here Tuesday night, the heaviest down-pour in almost a decade.

John Grippi, 51 N. Mountain Trail, suffered lacerations of the face Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13, when he fell out of his car as it rounded the corner of Baldwin and Montecito.

Around the Square

By Marjorie Parker

An eminent local scribe was driving down Sierra Madre Blvd. last week when what to her wondering eyes should appear but a duck sitting on the white line in the middle of the street.

"The poor hurt thing, now someone will probably run over it!" she mourned and carefully averted her eyes as she drove past. But she hid herself to the police station and reported a duck down. The patrol officer picked up a gun and started out the door, saying, "I'll take care of it."

"Now what have I done?" the e.l.s. wondered confusedly. "If it wasn't dead before, it will be now."

Pondering on the problems of a good samaritan she later told the story at a local garage. In the midst of her sympathetic rendering, one of the boys spoke up.

"Are you talking about a duck that was out in the Boulevard? Lady, that duck was clay."

When the police arrived there was no duck of any variety. This is to let them know that Marge Thomas really saw one, honestly, officer! But not very close.

Nor light the traditional candle in a pie tin of water and wait for the fleas to jump in and drown. These fleas couldn't see.

Finally Mr. Jenkins and his wife thought of soaking a towel in alcohol. She stuffed it in the neck of the cast and he pulled it out at the waist. Got em all. Passed out cold.

Vic Vet says VETERANS BUYING NEW HOMES WITH GI LOANS SHOULD INSPECT THE PROPERTIES PERSONALLY BEFORE CLOSING THE LOANS SO AS TO MAKE SURE THE HOME, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT ARE SATISFACTORY

Letter to the Editor Column

Dear Sir:

We feel it is a shame the way our schools have been exposed to public criticism the last few months. Certainly the majority of schools throughout the country have at one time or another been subject to a "face lifting" concerning their curriculum, but it has been done in a quiet, dignified manner, without all the fanfare we have received. Nothing nor no one is above criticism nor improvement. But we feel correction in any field should be left up to the experts, or those who have studied along their special lines.

True, my own children have not been instructed by everyone of the teachers in our schools. However, those with whom we have had contact, we feel have done their job well.

Our oldest son is in the eighth grade at Marshall, having graduated from the Sierra Madre school. We have not noticed nor heard of any difficulty on his part nor most of his Sierra Madre classmates, to maintain an average or better than average standing in their grades in Junior High. Their work is comparable to that of the other students, including those from the Pasadena Schools.

Our second son is now in the fourth grade here. Although he is by nature a slower reader, he nevertheless is just as GOOD a reader and he had his entire basic training here. His basic training in the lower grades in arithmetic, spelling, phonics, social studies, etc., are equal to that taught in the Illinois school where our older boy attended prior to our moving out here. In fact the same text and work books are used.

Our seven year old daughter is in the second grade. She was exposed to simple phonics, arithmetic and spelling in kindergarten. Her work habits and training in basic fundamentals are excellent. She is not the best reader or worker in her group, but then again she is not the poorest either—just about average—and doing, we feel, extremely well under the teaching of OUR PRESENT TEACHERS AND CURRICULUM.

Discipline is one of the biggest problems in any school. One unruly child deprives the entire class of learning. If we can clear up our disciplinary problems at home, our teachers can devote their time to teaching. In other words, let's not start polishing the kettles of the school until we are sure our own kettles at home are clean.

Sincerely,
MRS. ARTHUR C. BOHART

Bethany Schedules Annual Meeting Tomorrow Night

A church supper will precede the annual business meeting of Bethany Church tomorrow night. Dr. Schaper, pastor, will preside.

Included will be reports from all departments of the church, along with the election of officers for the coming year. The meeting assumes even larger proportion with the building program now underway, with completion scheduled for the near future.

The church enjoyed a tape recording last night from its newest missionaries to go to Peru, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore. They reported of their new life in the jungle area of the upper Amazon valley, and of their anticipation of useful service for Christ there.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
LIVING SACRIFICES

Because of the mercies of God, both as incentive born of gratitude and as an assurance of help, men are exhorted to present their bodies as living sacrifices unto God.

There is a distinction to be drawn between dead sacrifices and living sacrifices. Men who gave their lives in some great work, the engineers whose graves were made beside the right-of-way of a transcontinental railway, the devoted physician who gives himself as a guinea pig to test some saving medicine and the martyrs who gave their lives on the bloody sands of the arena and elsewhere all bring a great stimulus to noble achievement.

But the apostle calls upon men to present their bodies as living sacrifices unto God, which should mean the consecration of all their powers and their talents unto the Lord's service.

And this is their reasonable service. If it was to be expected that old Jim Bludson should stay at his post in the engine room of a burning boat and shout, "I'll hold her nozzle against the bank 'till the last galoot's ashore!" should it not be a reasonable thing for a Christian to live for his Lord every day?

What Others Believe . . .

Cornerstone of Methodist Faith — 'God Is With Us'

By Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters

"If one would be remembered after he is gone, he must either do things worth writing or write things worth reading," John Wesley, the founder of the movement which ultimately became the Methodist Church, did both.

History shows that the truly authentic in spirituality always starts out as a movement of reform, never as a "come-out movement." This was true of Jesus Himself, who came to fulfill, not to destroy, the Law. It was Wesley's purpose to rouse men in the Church of England to act up to the principles which they already possessed.

From the very beginning Methodists have stressed certain things in belief: a trinitarian God; the sinful condition of every man; the free moral agency of every man; the atonement of Jesus Christ for sin; the experience of forgiveness, assurance, and sanctification; the sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures for faith and practice; the Divine origin and nature of the Church; Divine judgment and eternal life.

IN PRACTICE Methodists have emphasized missions, evangelism, education on every level, the healing ministry, a limited episcopal form of government, separation of church and state, and a spirit of freedom for all men.

Several distinctive features have come to be the marks of a Methodist. The first of these has to do with individual Christian experience: "the heart strangely warmed."

It is this phrase which John Wesley used to describe that which happened to him in an upper home in Aldersgate St. on May 24, 1738. After years of rigid spiritual discipline, including service as a missionary to Georgia in order to save his own soul, Wesley felt he did trust in Christ alone for salvation; "and an assurance was given me that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death."

THUS WAS METHODISM born. Lecky, one of England's great historians, wrote: "It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that the scene which took place at that humble meeting on Aldersgate forms an epoch in English history."

Wesley rode stirrup to stirrup with the industrial revolution of the 18th Century and saved England from the blood bath of a French Revolution.

Roman Catholicism has been called a doctrine of the Church, Calvinism a doctrine of God, and Methodism a doctrine of religious experience.

In 1952 the Council of Bishops declared: "It is the privilege of every redeemed soul to know that his sins are forgiven and to be assured through the co-operating witness of the Holy Spirit with his spirit that he is a child of God. Our assurance arises not out of emotion but out of the radiant certainty of an indwelling Christ, whose mercy has cleansed us, whose love has saved us, and whose presence within our hearts has given us power and victory."

A SECOND MARK of a Methodist is an open mind — "the lighted mind."

In 1788 Wesley declared: "As to things which do not strike at the root of Christianity, we think and let think." He stands as a real religious pioneer in making the proper basis for Christian fellowship: "Is thy heart as my heart? Then give me your hand."

This was a reversal of the trend of centuries with their insistent demand: a creed; a collection of tenets; a statement of belief, or a certain form of worship.

"Give me solid, substantial religion; give me a gentle, humble lover of God and man; a man full of mercy and good fruits; a man laying himself out in the work of faith, the patience of hope, and the labor of love. Let my soul be with these Christians wherever they are, and whatever opinion they are of!"

WESLEY'S BELIEF in education was such that he became the first to abridge and publish books in inexpensive editions so that every home could possess a library. He recognized the need for graded instruction by preparing catechisms for three different age levels.

A third mark of a Methodist is a world concern and sense of responsibility for the welfare of others: "the helping hand."

One of the great contributions of Methodism to our society has been the way it has produced public reform through personal morality. Indeed, it helped instill Christendom itself with a sense of responsibility for all unrighteous conditions.

Religion began to concern itself with such mundane affairs as work for the unemployed, loans for the small businessman, shelter and medical attention for the needy, prison reform, and opposition to such evils as the slave traffic and alcoholism.

TODAY METHODISM has work in nearly every country of the world with a vital concern for the total needs of man. It was William Booth, a Methodist minister, who organized the Salvation Army. It was another Methodist minister who established "Goodwill Industries" with its now famous motto: "Not Charity but a Chance."

Methodism seeks to carry the Gospel in all of its social and moral implications into every area of the life of man.

A fourth, and historically the most distinguishing feature of Methodism, is a belief in Christian perfection or holiness. The idea here is better understood as "perfect love" which is itself characterized as "purity of intention."

In one of his tracts Wesley states: "Our main doctrines, which include all the rest, are three . . . that of repentance, of faith, of holiness. The first of these we account the porch of religion; the next the door; the third, religion itself."

GOD IS NEVER a companion of man's vices; he is always the champion of man's virtues. The holy life is the authentic Christian life. Jesus said, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

The rule by which John Wesley lived, and which has been handed down to his followers as a motto, is this: In all the places you can, Do all the good you can, By all the means you can, In all the ways you can, To all the people you can, As long as ever you can."

To see how nearly Wesley practiced what he preached one need only look at his life. For 50 years he averaged 15 sermons a week. He slept only four hours a night. It was common experience to travel 60 or 70 miles a day on horseback, preaching three times a day.

HE KNEW ENGLAND as no other man of his day. Master of six languages, he was an omnivorous reader of "extraordinary books of different kinds." He was one of the first to accept the value of Franklin's experiments with electricity, and daringly anticipated the modern theory of evolution 25 years before Charles Darwin was even born. Among his 441 publications is a volume on "Medical Remedies for the Home."

At 87 Wesley was preaching three times a day. He had lived long enough to see his work acknowledged as good even by his enemies and to receive honors from every side.

PROBABLY NO MAN ever worked harder or more continuously. He was a man to achieve so very much because of a genius for organizing every minute of every day. The very name Methodist was one of castigation because his enemies could not endorse any such organized way of life with its high ethical emphasis.

When John Wesley died in 1791 there were 541 Methodist ministers and a membership of 150,000. Today the Methodist Church around the world has nearly 100,000,000 members and adherents.

Get Membership Early, Foothill Concert Group Says

The 1957-58 concert series of the Foothill Community Concert Association will be held at Clifton School Auditorium, Monrovia, instead of in Monrovia-Duarte High. Mrs. Noren Eaton, a member of the Board of Directors, announced yesterday.

turn will limit memberships this year. Renewals of memberships, therefore, will take precedence over applications for new memberships. The annual membership campaign, usually held in April, has also been set ahead. New dates are Feb. 4 until noon of Feb. 9. However, memberships may be renewed at once by mail. Send checks (made payable to Foothill Community Concert Association) to Mrs. Omer G. Bailey, 319 N. Primrose, Monrovia.

Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Robert E. Shannon have been named co-chairmen for the entire area. Renewals will be received up until noon of Feb. 4. After that renewals and applications for new memberships, if accompanied by a check, will be filed and accepted in order of their receipt.

During the week's campaign Sierra Madre will be solicited as usual — if the auditorium has not been filled by early renewals — by a group of residents who have participated in activities of the Association. They include Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Daniel D'Arcy, Daniel Parker, Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, Mrs. David Allen, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. James Nixon, Mrs. Richard Flickwir and Mrs. Stanley Fish.

One of the outstanding cultural organizations in the San Gabriel Valley, the association each year presents a concert series which brings world-famous artists to this area. A non-profit group, its memberships are open to everyone at a charge of $6 for adults and $3 for students. Membership entitles the subscriber to attend all events. No tickets for any single program ever are sold.

Forest Chief

forest will have a fleet of at least five on standby, making it possible to reach any point on the Angeles in 15 minutes," Mr. Mendenhall said.

As to retirement plans, Mr. Mendenhall said he expects to spend the next few months compiling an historical record of national forest conservation in Southern California.

The source of his material, he disclosed, is in several crates of notebooks, which contain daily diaries kept since his first job as a mule packer for the Forest Service.

Final Services Observed for Mrs. M. C. Chambers

Funeral Services for Mrs. Marian Julia Chambers, a resident of Sierra Madre for the last 18 years, were held last Tuesday in the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with R. V. Chilton C. McPheeters officiating. Interment was in Live Oaks Cemetery.

Mrs. Chambers died Jan. 12 in the Sierra Madre Hospital after a brief illness. She was 84 years old, the widow of John Chambers, who died one year ago.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Chambers is survived by a sister, Mrs. Richard H. Dawson of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, who has been visiting here since Christmas.

VIEWSBy Toni Maurin

And so at last we have come to what my family terms as hot chocolate and popcorn time. In other words, our winter looks as if it has finally set in. The dust of the summer has been washed from the roofs and the trees look grateful for a long needed bath. There is a clean smell in the air and temporarily the smog is a thing of the past. I'm kinda like a squirrel come winter time. I like to get all snug and warm by the fire and just hole in and enjoy being home.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES E. Robbins of 1556 Old House Road just returned last week from a month's trip. They started out by car and drove to New Orleans where they boarded a Swedish vessel carrying 170 passengers. They took the cruise that touched at Havana, Port au Prince, Curacao and Kingston, Jamaica. They had a perfectly wonderful time on the boat, where they spent both Christmas and New Year's Eve. Mrs. Robbins said it took two hours for each meal and it was served with pomp and ceremony, with the entire staff appearing with great trays at one time. They also spent their anniversary and Mr. Robbins' birthday on the boat which afforded another party with beautiful Swedish pastries being served on both occasions. They returned to New Orleans and then drove on home, battling every kind of storm en route.

WE ATTENDED a grand party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gutierrez, 3265 Fairpoint, honoring Mr. Gutierrez on his birthday. Needless to say, the Mexican dinner served was out of this world. In addition to the dining and dancing they had Mr. Bob Camargo doing caricatures of all the guests, which caused a great deal of hilarity and fun for all. Among the guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Pember, William Friedrich, George Amthor, Ben Rogers, Richard Penoyer, Fred J. Ascencio and Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller. Also there were Mrs. Speltz Parker, Miss Betty Byrd and Mr. Robert P. Hildum.

MR. F. WAYNE Furstenberger of 3126 Meyer Lane is expected back tomorrow from a business trip to Seattle. He has been gone since the sixth of the month.

DR. AND MRS. CHARLES Rasmussen of 1845 Kinneloa Canyon Road entertained Dr. and Mrs. Harold J. Carter at a dinner and then later took them to the Pasadena Playhouse. Dr. and Mrs. Carter are leaving shortly with their five children to spend six months in Mexico City.

WE HAVE some more new neighbors. They are Miss Marion E. Smale and Miss Ethel O. Clark at 1247 Sierra Madre Villa. They bought the R. C. Fortner home and recently moved in. At present they are in the throes of decorating. They are both associated with Occidental College.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL Siechert of 1175 Mesita Road entertained their monthly bridge club last Saturday night at dinner. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffith of this area.

Area Firm Gets

Boeing Airplane Co., Seattle, has awarded a $914,000 contract to Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp., Pasadena, for aircraft engine vibration-monitoring systems.

Boeing will equip 860 military airborne cargo-carriers and aerial tankers with these electronic safety devices which give visual warning when engine vibration exceeds predetermined limits during flight.

The 1957 parent education series sponsored by Eugene Field PTA will begin Wednesday night and will undertake the study of "Growth of the Child's Personality."

Dr. David Cole, from the department of psychology of Occidental College, will be the speaker for the first three of the four meetings. His subject Wednesday night will be "The Beginning of Personality."

On the evening of Jan. 30 he will discuss "Parent-Teacher Interest in Personality." On Feb. 6 his topic will be "Growing Toward Maturity."

Carl M. Shafer, executive director of Family Service in Pasadena, will be the guest speaker on Feb. 13 on the subject "Emotional and Social Needs of the Normal Child."

The series is open to all interested friends of the School and parents are urged to attend.

Mrs. Ernest Johnson is PTA parent education chairman.

Ranch Guild
Makes Plans

Members of the Hastings Ranch Guild of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will meet Jan. 23 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Everett D. Hendricks, 1245 Coronet, for their regular monthly meeting. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. S. Robert Bremer and Mrs. Marvin B. Anderson.

Giangregorios
Host Party

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, 990 Pepperhill, will be hosts next Sunday evening at a buffet supper scheduled before the group's attendance at the Penthouse Theater in Altadena to see "The Rainmaker."

The performance is being sponsored by the Sierra Madre Woman's Club to benefit Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and Los Amigos.

Dinner guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. James Wentz, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Knudson and Mr. and Mrs. William Olson.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I'm sorry I learned to read! . . . My dog's pedigree papers turned out to be an old electric bill!"

and George Kelly, both members of the Executive Board, and Mr. Pember, president. In front, from left, are Mrs. Cecil Hicks Jr., recording secretary, and Mrs. Keith L. Stiles, corresponding secretary.

New Members
Are Honored by Shakespeare Club

Members of the American Home Section of Shakespeare Club met last week at Monty's Talk o' the Town Restaurant for a new member luncheon which honored Mrs. Carl A. Burt, Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. William J. Tisdal.

On hand to greet the guests was Mrs. Richard P. Brown, director.

Mrs. Jack Parth, membership chairman, was in charge of party arrangements.

Las Jardineras
Will Discuss
Tree Pruning

Mrs. William Hogboom, 3275 Canfield, will be hostess for the January meeting of Las Jardineras at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, when the topic for discussion will be "Pruning Fruit Trees."

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Ogden Boden and Mrs. Robert Buttane.

HADASSAH LUNCHEON

San Gabriel Valley Chapter of Hadassah will have its annual Youth Aliyah Luncheon on Tuesday, Jan. 22, at noon at Gwin's Magnolia Room, 2915 E. Colorado, Pasadena. For reservations call SYcamore 7-8430.

OH, OH! We were able to get a little scoop "from behind the lines!" Some of the people who have been lined up for the coming Talent Show because of their fine talents are:

Marsha McMann, doing a dance pantomime to "Siamese Cat Song"; Sarah Bolan, who also will do an interesting dance; doing a dance together to the record "Hide and Seek" will be Chris Crawford and Laurelee Strieter. We all expect to have a fine show, and we'll be pulling for all participants.

THE BETHANY CHURCH in Sierra Madre is planning to have a winter conference for young people some time in February. More news about that later.

Cupid has started his work early this year, sending his arrow on its way just before Valentine's Day. These are the folks who have been caught in "The Tender Trap." S.J. and E.H., F.W. and L.Z., R.E. and D.H., S.E. and D.H., A.A. and P.H., B.B. and M.C. and D.C. and E.R. Spring must be around the corner!

Marshall's Junior Dance is to be held on Friday, Jan. 18 (tomorrow night), so we hope to see all of you there. It promises to be a real ball, so come one, come all. Price of admission is 40 cents. Please don't forget that I'm still receiving, so please call me. And many thanks to those of you who have been giving me a buzz. The phone number is at the top of the column. See you next week!

Howdy, all! Let's start off with the Marshall casualty list. Last week Chuck Hicks broke his arm while playing basketball in the Marshall gym. Then Jimmy Parker was hurt on the court, chipping a tooth and being bruised in many places. Sorry, fellows. Hope you have a speedy recovery.

Marshall students, at least 27 of them, are having fun taking modern dancing lessons from Charles Weidman at PCC every Monday night from 7:30 to 9. Among those who are taking advantage of the opportunity are:

Marsha McMann, Barbara Brown, Kella Pratt, Dixie Grieve, Judy Mortensen, Barbara Captain, Anne Pearson, Susan Romeis, Marcia Baer, Cherie Carew, Ruth Halley, Helen Jean Hippenstiel, Ilga Vogtmann, Sherry Weber, Nancy Grizzle, Carol Rudolph, Sandy Mills, Judy Gibson, Alicia Swain, Carole Croson, Janet Dicksen, Kathy Probasco, Sharon Swiney, Susie Sparer and yours truly. We all extend our thanks to our teacher, Miss Knight, who made it possible for us to have this delightful opportunity. I'll have more for you on this next week.

MANY OF you may have wondered why the Talent Assembly last Friday was postponed. The reason was the amplifier system went out. They were not able to spot repair it so the assembly will be held a week from tomorrow.

JODIE RAYMOND, Kay Ebersole, Betsy Currier, Sandy MacInnes and Steve Smith went skiing last weekend. All but Steve, who is quite expert, took a series of dry ski lessons.

Mr. Raymond drove the kids up. There wasn't the most snow there has ever been, but I was told they had a blast, anyway.

JUDY BONZI had a party last Saturday. Some of those invited include Frank Fay, Judy Skove, Julie Saurnas, Kent Eichner, Doug Mich, Bonnie Reeve, Bob Eichelberger, Barbara Barlow, Bucky Bucklen, John Werblow, Sandra Doacher, Denny and Gary Wallberger, Teddy Lealand and Dave Powell.

Besides these kids there were many crashers. They had lots and lots of root beer and a blast.

Well, the results are out and the campaigning is in full swing. Posters are everywhere. Rehearsals are being held for the nominating assembly tomorrow. The sweat is over for five people. They were elected in the primaries.

Linda Marazzi was elected for her second term as president. Linda Dittberner was elected to the entertainment committee. Linda served as secretary this term.

Mike Couch was elected to the safety committee. Mike served as ninth grade counselor this term. Meredith Mitchell was elected 10th grade counselor. Jimmy Gutierrez is boys' activities chairman. Congratulations!

The final election will be Jan. 18th. Those whose names will appear on the final ballot and are working so hard now are:

Vice president, Kathy Alfredo and Bob Blumer; secretary, Sheila Donnell and Charlene Pierson; hospitality, Mary Lou Lloyd and Dianne Ranta; publications, Carolyn Dawson and Charles Siegel; girls' activities, June Lindman and Gwen O'Neil; seventh counselor, Robert Rutt and Barbara Kay; 8th counselor, Susan Aubrey and Kent Eichner; ninth counselor, Sharon Britt and Nancy Crimi. Good luck, kids.

MANY OF you may have wondered why the Talent Assembly last Friday was postponed. The reason was the amplifier system went out. They were not able to spot repair it so the assembly will be held a week from tomorrow.

JODIE RAYMOND, Kay Ebersole, Betsy Currier, Sandy MacInnes and Steve Smith went skiing last weekend. All but Steve, who is quite expert, took a series of dry ski lessons.

Mr. Raymond drove the kids up. There wasn't the most snow there has ever been, but I was told they had a blast, anyway.

JUDY BONZI had a party last Saturday. Some of those invited include Frank Fay, Judy Skove, Julie Saurnas, Kent Eichner, Doug Mich, Bonnie Reeve, Bob Eichelberger, Barbara Barlow, Bucky Bucklen, John Werblow, Sandra Doacher, Denny and Gary Wallberger, Teddy Lealand and Dave Powell.

Besides these kids there were many crashers. They had lots and lots of root beer and a blast.

Pro Bowl Teaches Kids
Value of Paper Airplanes

By Charles Ayres

It looks like maybe the football season has finally come to a close with spring practice a couple of months away. Things have changed some since we used to take our beating New Year's Day then have until the following September to heal the wounds.

This all seems to have come about from the pros and college seniors who don't want to give up after finally getting into condition. The college boys have a Senior Bowl, Hula Bowl, North-South and East-West game. The pros still have the last say, though, in the Pro Bowl, and a good one it is.

Like they do throughout the season, the pros open the gates for this one to kids, apparently on the theory that they are building future cash customers.

I'M NOT the one say this isn't a smart idea. As a matter of fact it calls for an adult for so many boys, apparently on the theory that this will result in some control of the little monsters. I haven't been able to find how one man can control a group of kids in a place the size of the coliseum, but it does provide the old man with an afternoon in a fresh outdoors and a good seat to the battle.

From my own observations I would guess that this free football for kids actually results in a nice profit through the peanut and pop vendors because there just seems to be something about a football game that makes kids hungry.

There doesn't seem to be much inclination on the part of the kids to watch the

A planned 37-home subdivision in the Sierra Madre Villa area led to protests by some 50 property owners last week at a public hearing of the County Board of Supervisors.

PRILL TO SPEAK

Walter C. Prill, manager of educational services of Southern Counties Gas Co., will be featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Santa Anita District Y.M.C.A. Tuesday, Jan. 22. The meeting will be at 6:45 p.m. at the Woman's Clubhouse, 140 N. Canyon Blvd., Monrovia.

over a request for re-zoning of 19 acres east of Pasadena Glen Rd. and north of Fairpoint St. Developer Harrison R. Baker seeks a reduction of minimum lot size from 40,000 to 15,000 square feet.

Several property owners, represented by Atty. J. Harold Berg, argued that extra homes would create traffic congestion on limited access roads and put a strain on available water supplies.

The property in question, which is being sold by Dr. Ralph M. Rogers, 700 Fairview, Sierra Madre, is the last remaining portion of the Shaw Estate, developed at the turn of the century.

Dr. Rogers explained that he is simply selling the property to Mr. Baker, who will subdivide it and sell lots. Persons who build homes on the lots must comply with the zoning requirement of the area.

The lots themselves, Dr. Rogers said, will be from 18,000 to 27,000 square feet and probably will cost up to $10,000 each. The homes will be from $25,000 to $40,000 in value.

In answer to criticism over a possible water shortage, Dr. Rogers said that he has had sufficient water to care for the orange groves and it should be ample to serve new residents of the area.

Although now served by the Mira Loma Mutual Water Co., the property is included in the Metropolitan Water District, Dr. Rogers added, and could call on the district for additional water, if it is needed.

Under present plans, the 18½ acres in the property would be subdivided into 37 lots, or two lots to an acre with an average frontage of 137 feet.

A letter from 35 residents of the area urging granting of the zone change because it would improve road connections to Pasadena Glen was filed with the supervisors.

Opponents of the change, however, argued that the subdivision would open up roads and bring droves of Sunday visitors into the remote cabin area.

License Renewals Lag Far Behind Pace of 1956

About half a million California motorists appear destined to get their 1957 auto license stickers the hard way, observed State Registrar of Motor Vehicles Al Vegalia in Sacramento yesterday.

The hard way, he explained, is waiting till the last minute and standing in long lines to pay registration fees before penalties for tardiness set in.

"This year's registration renewal is running so far behind that of 1956 that, unless vehicle owners act immediately, they may face the biggest deadline crush in years," Mr. Vegalia said.

The deadline for the 1957 vehicle registration is Feb. 4. After that date, penalties of up to 100 per cent are added to fees.

As of the close of business Friday, Jan. 11, only 1,150,858 owners had applied to Department of Motor Vehicles offices throughout the state for their 1957 registration certificates, or nearly half a million fewer than the total of 1,623,591 renewals for the same period last year.

"Actually, the lag is greater than that," Mr. Vegalia pointed out. "For this year, the total number of vehicles to be registered is at least 5 per cent greater than last year. Obviously, any further delay on the part of owners in renewing the registration of their vehicles can only lead to a last-minute crush."

Mr. Vegalia pointed out the Department of Motor Vehicles has substantially increased its personnel and facilities for handling this year's record registration in almost every area of the state.

A normal renewal, where the vehicle owner presents the prepared fee statement card, can be completed in just 30 seconds at any DMV office, designated bank station or automobile club office.

"We are geared to give the motoring public the fastest possible service, so there is really no reason why motorists should not get their renewals early and avoid the rush," Mr. Vegalia said.

Registration this year is evidenced by a red reflectorized sticker which can be attached in a jiffy to the rear license plate. And once it is attached, it can be removed only by destroying it. So, cautions the DMV, use reasonable care in making the attachment. A duplicate costs $2.

SHOW THIS TO YOUR HUSBAND!

Tell him it's you without an electric clothes dryer —straining under the 5000 pounds of wet wash you lug to the clothes line every year.

Tell him the cure: a shiny new electric dryer. It saves you the lifting and bending and dependence on the weather. It saves clothes—they dry fluffier, cleaner and fresher smelling. They last longer, too.

Tell him it has to be an electric dryer, of course. Because it's so safe. Because you simply plug it in. And because it costs less to buy! (Electricity is your biggest bargain in modern living.)

Santa Catalina Handicap To Draw Biggest Field

Another of Santa Anita's double stakes, to be presented this Saturday to culminate the fourth week of racing, is attracting wide interest for the bearing they will have on classics coming up later in the meeting.

The traditional $25,000 Santa Catalina Handicap at 1 1/4 miles for aged California foals has attracted its greatest field for the 19th running.

Such established stars as Honeys Alibi, Social Climber, Blen Host, Count Chic and Lover Boy are among prospective starters to test their chances in the $50,000 San Antonio on Feb. 9, and the $135,000 guaranteed Santa Anita Handicap on Feb. 23.

The companion $20,000 Santa Monica Handicap, a new stakes for fillies and mares at 7 furlongs on this year's richest program, has a number of stars, including Miss Todd, Our Bettors and In Reserve, among others. They are coming up to the $50,000-added Santa Margarita Handicap on Feb. 16.

The estimated $165,000 Santa Anita Maturity which will be run on Saturday, Jan. 26, has an all-time high number of 24 4-year-old kept eligible in the final payment.

Santa Anita Park has officially designated Jan. 29, Feb. 2 for the five annual charity days to add to the more than $9,000,000 that has been raised for charity and civic welfare.

Great Progress Made Last Year
In Control of Communicable DiseasesBy Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

During the last quarter century tremendous progress has been made in the control of the communicable diseases and in 1956, at long last, poliomyelitis was added to the list of preventable diseases.

There were 373,538 doses of polio vaccine administered by the Los Angeles County Health Department staff to individuals under 20 years of age and to expectant mothers who had been exposed to the disease and were attending the department's clinics. In addition, the department dispensed material for 39,249 doses of the vaccine to private physicians, making a total of 412,787 injections for which the department was directly or indirectly responsible.

It should be mentioned that most of the polio vaccine administered by private physicians was purchased by them from commercial sources. The amount of federal vaccine distributed by the Health Department represents but a fraction of the material used in private practice.

OWING to similar efforts of health departments and private physicians in the nation-wide polio immunization campaign, the crippling and death that once resulted from the disease in this country may soon be, except in rare instances, a thing of the past.

Diphtheria outbreaks occur sporadically in various parts of the United States, and the disease continued to be kept under strict surveillance within the jurisdiction of the County Health Department. Approximately 200,000 diphtheria-tetanus inoculations were given to school children through 12 years of age, a preventive program that complements the work of the family doctor. Because of this immunization program, diphtheria was kept well under control and only two cases of the disease were reported in the County Health Department area in 1956, neither of them fatal.

Tuberculosis in all forms showed a 7.8 per cent decrease in the number of cases discovered, continuing the downward trend of recent years. An estimated 980 new cases were reported in 1956 as against 1,063 in 1955.

The significant trend in the venereal diseases is the increasing occurrence of the infection among teenagers. In the County Health Department area during 1949, the percentage of those persons 15 to 19 years of age who contracted an infectious venereal disease was 10 per cent of the total number of cases reported. Since that time, the teenage rate has nearly doubled. This increase is not a local phenomenon but is, instead, a reflection of the national situation. On the credit side, however, the total number of cases of both syphilis and gonorrhea remained much the same in the County Health Department's jurisdiction.

During 1956, the county experienced an outbreak of animal rabies that threatened to reach epidemic proportions. Fortunately, the cases remained pretty well centralized in the south and southwest portions of the county.

AN ORDINANCE requiring the compulsory vaccination of dogs was passed by the County Board of Supervisors and made applicable in unincorporated areas. Already, 29 of the incorporated cities in the county have passed similar ordinances in the all-out effort to control the disease.

The rabies program is one of long range and the disease will not be controlled for many years, so a report of any person bitten by a dog should be made immediately to health officials or a private physician. In the past year, it was necessary to give Pasteur treatment to a total of 298 persons who were exposed to this fatal disease.

In looks...

You'll marvel at Ford's fleet, low, sculptured lines . . . its big "living room" interiors.
You'll marvel even more when you see its price . . . for it's a real low-priced luxury car.

Fairlane Club Victoria

Nothing at the price compares

Custom Fordor

In length...

The reason Ford looks longer than other cars in its field is because it is longer. Customs are over 16 feet and Fairlanes over 17 feet . . . longer than even some medium-priced cars.

You can forget all your old ideas about low-priced cars when you Action Test the new kind of Ford! For this year—in size, in style, in sizzle, in everything—Ford is way out front.
Yet the low Ford price is all you pay!
